AZUSA

Late in September Ours from Azusa went to Loyola University for the Ignatian exhortations. The smallness of our community does not warrant separate exhortations, so that we will join the other communities from time to time for these events during the Ignatian Year.

Likewise towards the end of September Fr. Kelleher returned to conduct a retreat for the alumni of U. S. F., a group which he himself had organized before his transfer to Phoenix.

All through October the retreat groups continued solid, with an all-time high of the week of Oct. 7 when 58 participated, slightly more than we can accommodate commodiously, as we had to put two and three in some rooms in the old White House. Fr. Savage was the retreat master.

Our men—we are only four—besides their work at Manresa, are quite active in outside ministry. During the month, Fr. Nagle gave a retreat to some 30 women, wives of Manresa retreatants, at the Monastery of the Angels in Hollywood. Fr. Connolly addressed the Knights of Columbus of Fontana at their 3rd Degree Initiation banquet, and later Glendale Men's Club. Fr. Savage preached the Forty Hours at St. Frances in Azusa. Each Sunday three of our four men take calls in various nearby parishes. Fr. Nagle also spoke to the Catholic ladies at the parish in Arcadia. Fr. Vaughan gives conferences each month in a couple of convents, and hears Confessions.

Visitors during the month included Fr. Maginnis from St. Clare's Church for his annual retreat Fr. Wm. Rice from San Francisco, and Fr. Mazon, a secular priest from Chino, who made his own annual retreat.

Ours make regular visits to nearby Monrovia Sanatorium where Frs. McAstocker and McGreal are confined to bed. Fr. McAstocker is able to say Mass two or three times a week, and Fr. McGreal seems far along the road to recovery.

BROPHY

Mr. Dick Walsh, father of one of our boys, received the Papal honor of the Knight of St. Gregory in a very impressive ceremony on Friday, Oct. 21 in St. Francis Church. Both Bishop Gerke and the pastor, Fr. Kelleher gave impressive talks to the assembled people.

On Monday, Oct. 10, the cooling came on in the school for the first time. Needless to say it has made a great difference both to the teachers and the boys.

Fr. Babbish journeyed to Tucson at the request of Bishop Gerke to give a talk to the altar boys and to receive the new altar boys into the Sanctuary Society.

Fr. Fox prepared a Mission display for Mission Sunday in the school library. A number of the people after each Mass attended the display.

The English teachers have been working hard on the debating society. So far they have won a very large percentage of their debates with the public schools.

Friday, Oct. 21 Fr. Hauck gave the community exhortation on St. Ignatius and obedience.

The Mother's Club is putting on a spaghetti dinner Sunday, Nov. 13 to help cover expenses for alterations in our kitchen during the summer months.

Fr. Henry addressed a number of the students at Phoenix College on the Catholic doctrine on marriage.

Fr. Shepard has received approbation from the Bishop as the new director for the Apostleship of prayer for this diocese.

Fr. Babbish is the moderator for the Catholic labor group here in Phoenix who are studying the encyclicals of the Popes.

Frs. Harrington and Wondra attended the Diamond Jubilee celebration of St. Mary's Hospital in Tucson.

EL RETIRO

Without any particular ceremonies of mortgage burning, the debt on the Prosser property, which was acquired a few years ago, was fully discharged, thanks particularly to the half-dollar club.

The chapel has been completely recarpeted, with a consequent improvement in the general tone of the sanctuary and aisles.

A copy of the illustrated Following of Christ, published by the Confraternity of the Precious Blood, has been placed in each room through the courtesy of Mr. Henry J. Strickroth.

A souvenir booklet, the gift of Mrs. Joseph Towne, with pictures of each of the Mysteries of the Rosary, together with suitable meditations assembled by Fr. O'Mara, is given to each retreatant as a remembrance of Rosary Lane.

The October eight-day retreat was conducted by Fr. O'Mara. Nine retreatants followed the Exercises. The composition of place for the meditation on the Agony in the Garden, was made all the more realistic by the surroundings of Bellarmine Hall: the brook which bounds the property, the olive grove, the prevailing silence, the clear moonlit night. So impressed was one of the retreatants by it all that he authorized Father to erect a statue of Christ in His Agony in the grove, to be a like inspiration to future retreatants.

Though "only God can make a tree," man can help in their growth and development. The retreat house is the recipient of some 300 conifers which will be set out this fall. We are likewise indebted to the McDonnell Nursery for a large number of well-established trees and shrubs which will further beautify our grounds.

The retreat register records that 551 men have made a retreat over the past seven weeks averaging about 78 per retreat.

The Mission Band schedule indicates that the members of the band will be fully occupied during the months which lie ahead.

BELLARMINE

The class of '55 sent four to seminaries: Wade, Hanlon and Grimaldi to Los Gatos, Derry to St. Joseph's at Mountain View.

Mr. Rock has signed up the largest number ever for the Sanctuary Society.

Frs. Newport, Giambastiani and McGinty conducted the annual retreat.

Fr. Rector (C. Dullea) is sponsoring an essay contest for each class about St. Ignatius.

Fr. Copeland is State Chaplain of the American Legion this year, the same position that Fr. Henry Walsh held some years ago. Fr. Copeland is also State Chaplain for National Guard. The "California Legionnaire" printed an invocation Father gave at Ventura, at a meeting of the executive committee of the Legion, and has asked him to contribute a monthly column.

Fr. Rector addressed the Serra Club at their meeting on Sept. 23, and the Optimists Club at their meeting on Oct. 25. Fr. Copeland talked to the Serra Club on Nov. 4 on Jesuit Education.

About 450 Mothers and Dads came for Parents' Night, the largest crowd ever. Eleven speakers from the faculty presented briefly various phases of Bellarmine life. Parents drove from Tulare, Napa, Merced, Modesto, and even San Luis Obispo.

Up to Oct. 23 the varsity football team had defeated Salinas, Riordan, Norte del Rio and Serra, tied Watsonville, and lost to San Lorenzo. It is ranked 14th among 200 high schools in Northern California and has been placed in the top AA division.

At the Serra game, Mr. Morris' band appeared in white uniforms as a marching band. At the homecoming dance after the game, the alumni filled the dining room to capacity. The moderator, Fr. Conway, estimated the crowd as over 200.

The wives of the alumni, who are called the "Alumni Auxiliary" donated a large banner for our games and rallies.

Mr. Krivanek's cross-country track team has already defeated San Jose, Los Gatos, and Fremont high schools.

On Nov. 5 Bellarmine will be host to the Regional Speech and Debate Tournament of the National Forensic League. Twenty new members have been added to our unit of the NFL.

The Mission Committee of the Sodality has already started its drive to sell Catholic Christmas cards and to fill Christmas baskets for the poor. The Boarders' Committee is visiting the children in the County Hospital. Fr. Byrne is planning on conducting a Day of Recollection for each one of the six committees.

The "Bell Echo" is planning an edition for the Ignatian Year, under the direction of Mr. Connolly. The annual "Carillon" took top honors in the Catholic Division of the National Scholastic Press Association. In the regular division of high school annuals it took first place over 750 schools.

Frs. Corvi and Flynn judged the preliminary contest of the Sophomore orators, selecting the ten best out of 80 contestants. The following Scholastics will coach the boys for the finals on Nov. 3: Messrs. Morris, Whitten, McNaught, Taheny, Van Dorn, Rock, Cooney, Connolly, Weber, Callaghan.

The Dads' Club Dinner-Dance on Oct. 15 was attended by 326 parents and their friends.

Fr. Corvi's paper "Training in Natural Virtues and Good Manners," presented at this year's meeting of the Jesuit Educational Association in Washington, was published in the October issue of the Jesuit Educational Quarterly.

Mr. Monacell, who arranged with the "Messenger of the Sacred Heart" for the "GI Page," is now promoting the consecration of classes to the Sacred Heart. Sacred Heart badges are made available to the boys at the low price of five cents; they are assembled in the "Hobby-Lobby" by boarders. Ever First Friday an essay on the Sacred Heart is given to each student consecrated to the Sacred Heart. These essays are written by a theologian, Mr. McCaffrey.

FRESNO

Visitors—Sept. 21, Fr. Thomas Moore (NY), National Director of the Apostleship of Prayer, spoke to the seminarians about the make-up of the Apostleship of Prayer and the importance of the Morning Offering. Frs. Newport and Twigg-Porter accompanied Fr. Moore on his visit.

Fr. Whelan gave the first of the Ignatian Year Exhortations on Sept. 29. Fr. Hauck gave the second on Oct. 21.

The following were overnight visitors: Fr. C. O'Mara, Fr. Rice and Fr. Dwyer, Chaplain at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco. Fr. Giacomo Alberioni, S.S.P., founder of four religious societies, one of priests and brothers, three of nuns, one which is the Pious Disciples of the Divine Master, the Sisters who take care of the seminary's laundry and kitchen, paid a brief visit on his world wide tour.

Fr. Fabris arrived on Oct. 3 to assume his duties as Spiritual Father for the community and seminarians.

The retreat for the seminarians, given by Fr. Newport, began on the evening of Oct. 11 and culminated on Friday afternoon. That evening the seminarians, Frs. Brady, Newport and the

Fr. Superior (Wm Finnegan) was Fresno's representative at the High School's Centennial Mass while Frs. Geary and Harkin were present for USF's Centennial Mass.

Building News—The new classrooms and living quarters are progressing ahead of schedule. The entire framework will be completed by the end of October. Occupancy is expected by the start of the second semester.

LOYOLA HIGH

Loyola's 1955-56 enrollment totals 880: 191 seniors, 225 juniors, 225 sophomores, 239 freshmen.

September's Ignatian Year exhortation was given to the community by Fr. Haggeman. His subject was "Caritas Discreta." Fr. Hauck gave the October exhortation on "Ignatian Obedience."

Fr. Whelan was guest of honor at a special dinner Oct. 3, celebrating his Golden Jubilee in the Society. The following Monday, Oct. 10, was declared a holiday in his honor.

Fr. Menager has recently returned to the high school to resume his duties as spiritual father. He had spent the summer, at Bishop Willinger's request, as pastor at Atascadero.

The Ignatian Year will provide the theme for the sophomore oratorical contest.

Weekly Sodality activities include work at the County Hospital each Sunday morning, and weekly catechism teaching. Daily mental prayer is directed each morning for a large group of sodalists by Fr. Brannon and Messrs. Hyde, Dullea, and Boyle.

On October 22 Loyola was host to the Southern California Debate League's Novice Individual Tournament. Over twenty schools participated, with over 500 contestants.

Last June Ian Holland of the Class of '41 pronounced his final vows at the Trappist Monastery of Our Lady of Gethsemane. His name in religion is Frater M. Bernardine, O.C.S.O.

Football results have not been too encouraging. The season opened with a 32-6 loss to Santa Barbara. The Cubs tied Inglewood 13-13, then beat Cathedral 13-7, but lost to Glendale 33-14, and to Mount Carmel 20-0.

Fr. Duggan and Mr. Magallon are coaching the J.V.'s, and Mr. Elliott is masterminding the Dees.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY

Fr. Markey was appointed moderator of a New Catholic Action club at Hughes Aircraft, known as the Catholic Outlook Group. This group consists entirely of Hughes employees who wish to express and increase their knowledge of Christian ideals. The workers sacrifice their lunch hour to meet every Monday at noon.

Oct. 14-16: An exhibit of customs, costumes and native scenes of the world-wide Catholic Mission fields was held in our gymnasium. Loyola, through her generosity in supplying the gymnasium, gained many new friends who had never before visited her campus.

Oct. 3: Fr. St. Sure, moderator of the Glee Club, was named as producer of the operetta to be offered in the spring.

Oct. 7: The Student Body of Loyola was dedicated to Mary. The dedication ceremonies took place at the Fatima Shrine. A short talk was given by Fr. Von der Ahe; the student body president read the dedication; and the ceremonies were completed with the recitation of the Rosary by the assembled students. During the prayers for peace, Howard Hughes, sensing the drama of the moment, fired his thunderous rocket guns.

Fr. Joseph Donovan, Regent of the Loyola School of Law, has released figures showing that in the past 12 years, less than one-half of one percent of the students failed to pass the California Bar exam. From 1942 to 1954, 497 Loyola students out of 498 passed the bar exam successfully.

Oct. 10: Andre Previn and his Jazz Quartet shook some of the dust off the books in Loyola's library as 400 people bounced to his jazz.

Oct. 12: Dr. Gordon Goodhart, Dean of the USC School of Medicine, and Dr. Peter Lee, Asst. Dean, spoke to our pre-med and pre-dental students here on campus. Concerning preparation for medical school, a great emphasis was placed by both speakers on the broad, cultural type of education.

Oct. 13: Mr. Charles Mackintosh, president of the Los Angeles Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations, spoke on the UN under the sponsorship of the Historical Society and the International Relations Club. Mr. Mackintosh was introduced by Fr. Brusher, Moderator of the Historical Society.

Oct. 21: "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," the Del Rey Players' first production of the year, received sincere and well deserved praise from the capacity crowd which attended the first performance.

MT. ST. MICHAEL'S

His Excellency Bernard J. Topel was welcomed to the diocese of Spokane in the installation ceremonies on Oct. 12. Gene Piere's choir received public acknowledgment by the Bishop for their fine performance.

On the day following, Leonard Pennario, noted concert pianist, gave a private recital to the scholastics.

The Hon. Henry Jackson (Dem), junior senator from Wash., addressed the scholastics on Oct. 7. Communism was the object of his attack, which stimulated a great deal of discussion afterwards among the scholastics.

Home from the recent Sodality Conference at St. Louis, Fr. William Prasch, diocesan director of the Sodality, reported to the Mount Sodality Academy. One highlight discussed was 'the requirements for consecration'.

Fr. John P. Leary, editor and social economics professor, conversed with the philosophers on social conditions in southern Europe. The scholastics were very enthusiastic with what proved to be one of the most informative talks in quite some time.

The Aquinas Conference launched its new term program on Oct. 29, the theme, "Modern Adversaries."

NOVITIATE

Fr. Cassassa delivered the monthly Ignation conference to the community.

Fr. McGreal seems to be making good progress against tuberculosis. He is at Maryknoll Sanatorium, Monrovia.

Fr. Charlton addressed the Jesuit parents of the Santa Clara Valley branch.

The cool summer has kept the sugar low in the grapes so the harvest did not begin until early October.

Paul J. Goda from Loyola University entered on Oct. 7 bringing the number of new Novices to 25.

PORT TOWNSEND

On Sept. 20 Fr. Leo Martin, completed the long retreat for his 17th group of tertians. There are 31 in the present group.

Fr. Vice-provincial (P. Carroll) made the visitation of the Californians during the last week of October.

At the request of the Archbishop, tertians assisted in the preaching for the Propagation of the Faith collection. Fr. Mahan preached at Port Angeles, and Fr. Fernandez at St. Luke's (Seattle).

Hospital Experiment: Fr. Caldwell, Sacred Heart in Spokane; Frs. Smith and Lester, Providence Hospital in Seattle.

SAN FRANCISCO

Centennial

On October 13-16 the centennial of the founding of the University of San Francisco and St. Ignatius High School was commemorated with an impressive series of solemn functions. In a Solemn High Mass for past and present students and faculty of the High School, Fr. Rector (W. Tobin) was celebrant, Fr. Leonard was deacon and Fr. D. Walsh, subdeacon. Fr. Casassa preached the sermon. Another Solemn High Mass was celebrated for deceased students and faculty of the Institution, with Fr. President (J.F.X. Connolly) as celebrant, Fr. Smyth as deacon, and Fr. Mei as subdeacon. The sermon was preached by Fr. Hauck. A third Solemn High Mass was offered for the religious of the archdiocese with Fr. Patrick Carroll as celebrant, Fr. Whelan as deacon, and Fr. Burns as subdeacon. Fr. Silva preached the sermon. On Sunday, Oct. 16, a Solemn High Mass of thanksgiving coram Pontifice was celebrated by diocesan priest-alumni. Rt. Rev. Mons. Harold Collins was celebrant, Fr. Norbert • Feely, deacon, and Fr. Thomas Kennedy, subdeacon. Both Mons. Collins and Fr. Feely were officials of the Mass at the Diamond Jubilee in 1932. Fr. Francis Corkery (Ore.) preached the sermon. On the following Sunday, the new student residence, Phelan Hall, was dedicated and blessed. The new residence bears the name of the late Hon. James D. Phelan, alumnus, benefactor, and prominent figure in both city and state government.

University

Teams from both the Western College Association and the State Board of Education made a visitation and inspection of the University. There were five members on each board of examiners.

Members of the lay faculty banded together for a day of recollection at El Retiro. It has been decided to make this an annual event.

The annual Presidential reception and dinner for members of all faculties was held in the dining room of Phelan Hall. Wives of the lay faculty were also present.

Fr. Ryan gave the annual retreat for the Catholic students, Fr. Scannell for the non-Catholic students, and Fr. Duffy for the student nurses. Fr. McMahon gave a week-end retreat for business women.

The funeral Mass for Fr. Rock was celebrated by his brother, Fr. John Rock, S.J., who flew out from Boston accompanied by his sister, a religious of the Congregation of St. Joseph.

Fr. Fisher is still at St. Mary's Hospital, but his condition has shown improvement.

High School

Sodality officers were installed at a ceremony in the chapel on Sept. 23. An entertainment was held in the auditorium afterwards.

In commemoration of the centennial year, the S.I. chapter of the N.F.L. sponsored a tournament for the local schools on Oct. 15. The planning of Messrs. Musante and Bianchi made the day a real success.

The annual retreat was held Oct. 17-21. Fr. F. Curran conducted the retreat for the upper classmen, Fr. Newport for the freshmen. The freshmen had made their retreat earlier.

The varsity football team ended Serra's winning streak at 16 by defeating them 33-12. Season record: 1 win, 1 tie, 2 losses.

VARIA

Fr. Falvey has initiated a Catholic Information Forum which meets twice a week in the social hall of St. Ignatius Church in Sacramento.

Fr. Twigg-Porter gave a Triduum of Reparation at St. John's Parish in Lone Pine, and another at the parish at Gridley.
